Monty Alexander, a young pianist from Jamaica, scored a surprise hit during the generally dull Saturday evening session, simply by playing straight, no-nonsense swinging jazz which had been irritatingly absent.